Stezzano, 6th March 2018

BREMBO TO ENTER FORMULA E AS SOLE SUPPLIER TO SPARK RACING TECHNOLOGY

Brembo SpA is proud to announce that it has been appointed by Spark Racing Technology (SRT) - the exclusive supplier of chassis for the season 5 (2018-2019), 6 (2019-2020) and 7 (2020-2021) of the FIA Formula E Championship which has launched the new single-seater today at the Geneva Auto Show - as the supplier of the whole braking system, including rotors and carbon pads.

Alberto Bombassei, Chairman of Brembo, has commented: "I am particularly satisfied for this achievement because it represents the final crowning of Brembo's strong and continued commitment, and in particular of the Racing and R&D teams, to the development and production of the system selected by SRT, which I personally thank for the trust granted to Brembo.

For a company that has always been focused on continuous innovation like Brembo, the Spark's single seater for the FIA Formula E series represents an incomparable 'mobile lab' for the development of technology applied to the electric car, which is the real future - if not already present - challenge to the automotive sector. In such perspective we are also glad to sharing and supporting FIA's vision and commitment to the sustainability of motorsports and road safety".
